

Data Scientist At Walmart:

Walmart Connect is seeking experienced data science individual contributors to build and enhance ads measurement capabilities through advanced analytics and machine learning techniques.

I think this is the right job for me since the job requirement matches with my skills.

Data Scientist At Instacart:

Instacart is dedicated to making grocery shopping effortless for everyone and finding solutions to large-scale opportunities that will forever change the way people feed themselves and their loved ones. Their teams work at the intersection of data and decisions. Data Scientists at Instacart are embedded within product teams and serve as the data driven thought leaders.

Data Scientist At Nextera Energy:

This position is responsible for developing algorithms, modelling techniques, and optimization methods that support many aspects of NextEra and FPL business. Employees in this role use knowledge of machine learning, optimization, statistics, and applied mathematics along with abilities in software engineering with a focus on distributed computing and data storage infrastructure (e.g. "Big Data").

I think this is the right job for me given my previous experience in energy sector.